

The Link bus route

Auckland's accessible bus routes

The Link and City Circuit are two of Auckland's bus routes that have wheelchair accessible buses. They are great for getting around the CBD, and for seeing some Auckland attractions such as the Auckland War Memorial Museum, and the Newmarket and Ponsonby shopping areas.

Most Link bus stops and buses have audible and electronic real-time passenger information. Simply push the yellow button at the bus stop signs.

Link bus frequency:

Every 10 minutes approximately on Weekdays 6am to 7pm and on Saturdays 7am to 6pm.

Every 15 minutes approximately every evening until 11.30pm and on Sundays and public holidays 7am to 11.30pm.

City Circuit buses are free, and run every 10 minutes between 8am and 6pm, seven days a week.

Towards a 100 per cent accessible Auckland

A 100 per cent accessible city is one that has no barriers – physical or otherwise – that prevent people from participating in society.

Auckland is a lively, diverse and exciting city with many wonderful sites and sounds to experience.

This access map was designed to make it easier for people to get around Auckland's CBD.

We are unique. One of Auckland's defining features is that it is situated on a ring of volcanoes. While this means you get great views of our beautiful harbours, it also means that most journeys can involve going up or down hills.

This map highlights a range of features to help make your visit more enjoyable, such as the location of accessible car parks, toilets, and some key bus routes around the central city.

We have worked with disabled people to develop the map. It's another Auckland City Council initiative to help improve access for everyone.
